Valuation Plan Ok'd

The Cameron School Board Friday night voted unanimously to sign a contract with Southwestern Appraisal Co., of Dallas and Stamford, for a valuation of Cameron School District property.

Supt. Charles Zeigler said that valuation work on about 5,300 parcels of property in the District will begin "as soon as possible."

Completion of the contract followed a series of information programs presented by Maburn Harris, of the appraisal firm, before Cameron civic and women's clubs, the Milam Farm Bureau and other Cameron meetings.

The firm is now conducting a similar survey of valuations in the Thorndale School District.

TUITION CHARGE

In other action, the Cameron School Board voted to charge tuition for students transferring into the District from other school districts starting September, 1963. Supt. Zeigler said that no figure has yet been established, but that local cost factors are being determined before the Board sets the transfer tuition per student.

He also noted that Hearne is planning to charge tuition for students transferring into the Hearne District starting next September. The Cameron District has 139 transfer students from 11 adjacent districts, Supt. Zeigler told The Herald. They include 85 Negro transfers and 54 white pupils.

The local district is paying costs for these students above funds allocated by the state for teachers and transportation, he said.

Cost of the valuation survey will be $24,600. It will include measuring land and real estate, both rural and city, but will not include bank accounts, personal property or store inventories.

Officials estimate it will take about six months to complete the survey.

15 - 15 - 70 RATIO
Harris estimated that a 15-15-70 ratio is usually found in a valuation program, meaning 15 per cent of valuations will be lowered, 15 per cent will remain the same and about 70 per cent will increase.

Property values will be based on replacement cost of the property, measured against a national average of market value and allowing for local differences. Depreciation of buildings would be considered with particular emphasis on functional depreciation on old homes and buildings.

Land will be classified by grade, as are housing and commercial property. Grade of land or classification of housing affect lowering or increasing values.

Cameron is joining the list of Central Texas towns taking a look at the future and determining to prepare for it. Temple just approved a $7.1 million bond issue for numerous civic improvements. Rockdale is completing construction on a new library and Marlin and Hearne are planning downtown street improvement projects.

Cameron will vote April 2 for a library maintenance fund which would cost but 5 cents per $100 valuation. And the Council this week heard preliminary reports from an engineering firm on prospects for modernizing downtown streets.

Library board member E. A. Perrin is addressing various civic groups on the need of the library, now in a good location at 112 E. First St.

The City now co-operates with other incorporated Milam towns - Rockdale and Thorndale - in supporting the Milam Health Unit, a commitment of $1440 a year. It seems reasonable and right that Cameron can afford $2,500 per year to support a vital center in any growing community, a library.

In fact, it is amazing that a library could operate on such a small budget. But with contributions and memorials in books and money, it can and does.

Libraries perhaps are not as popular as other civic enterprises, but they are every bit as important. Schools can provide only so many books for their students. The important function of outside reference and outside reading then will fall to a community library.

We are confident Cameron sees the need for this vital service.

Book - Of - The - Month

Travels With Charley

TRAVELS WITH CHARLEY by John Steinbeck. New York: The Viking Press. 246 pp. A "Book-of-the-Month" selection, 1962.

More of a novel might be expected of a Nobel Prize winner than found in Steinbeck's essay "In Search of America." But Steinbeck did not win his 1962 Nobel award for formality. His social survey of America, in 27 prior novels about big problems and little people, should find whimsical, welcome company in TRAVELS WITH CHARLEY.

Charley is a French poodle, born in France, as inimitably casual as Steinbeck himself. Author and dog travel the United States in a specially designed truck dubbed "Roc-inante", Steinbeck's counter to some satiric comparisons of his trip to Don Quixote's travels. Roc-inante was Quixote's horse.

With Charley beside him, Steinbeck wends a kind of "America Revisited" pathway from his New York home northeastward into Maine, across the Midwest, onto Seattle, Washington, down the California coast and homeward through Texas and Southland.

This is no small travelogue, no more than it is Steinbeck's best book. His search is for people, not places. He still finds them, as does comedian Charlie Weaver, "his kind of people," and this country "his country."

PLAN SCHEDULED FOR CITY VIEW IN TWO WEEKS

An engineer from the Fort Worth firm of Joe J. Rady & Associates Tuesday met with the City Council and discussed preliminary planning on redoing Cameron downtown streets.

Bob King spent Tuesday afternoon in Cameron reviewing prospects of lowering and leveling downtown street grades and resurfacing them.

City - Sec. Buddy Fuller told The Herald King advised that existing sidewalks be left as they are in proposed downtown street improvements.

King told Councilmen he would draw up a working plan for presentation at the next Council meeting March 21.

DRAINAGE CHECK

He said that underground drainage in the downtown area would be physically inspected before a profile plan for the 35 to 40 blocks of streets was recommended and costs were analyzed.

The area being considered in the street improvement program would be bound by Crockett to West Fourth St. (SH 36 - US 190 - US 77) to Fannin and Gillis Sts.

No definite plan has been drawn, Fuller said. Similar plans are underway in Marlin and Hearne where federal grants will be put with local bond funds.

In other Council action, the library referendum phrasing was reviewed prior to selecting the style of ballot for the April 2 city election.

Three Council posts are also under consideration in the April 2 vote, including incumbent J. Starrick Hickman for Place 3; incumbent E. L. Wied for Place 4; and incumbent John A. Smith and J. C. "Jimmy" Marek for Place 5.

And an ordinance empowering the 1963 Equalization Board to meet was approved. Board members are J. J. Heitman, August Kunz and Walter Lucas.

Councilmen also heard regular progress reports from City water and street superintendents.

Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle reported installation of a 12-inch drainage pipe across the end of W. Eighth St., and opening of a drainage ditch from W. Sixth St. across the Matt Zarosky property.

He also noted other drainage improvement at Sixth and Scott Avenue and placing gravel in several areas of Cameron.

Asphalt patching, two loads of it, and work in the City Cemetery were begun and base section of Sixth Street from Jefferson Avenue to the SP Railroad was processed.

Earle anticipated work on curb and gutter on West Sixth St. near Newton Hospital and general clean up work around the city.

Water Supt. Alvin Heftt noted installation of 225 feet of 6 - inch sewerline at E. 17th St. and North Hoover and four sewer connections at North Hoover and E. 17th St. He also reported repairs on six water connections and construction of 15 meter boxes.

On Milam's Farms and Ranches

News About Milam Farmers, Their Interests, And Activities

Starved Plants Show Definite Signs Of Hunger

COLLEGE STATION — What does a starving plant look like? They, like animals and man, show definite signs of hunger and the farmer who is able to recognize these symptoms can do a better job of feeding his crop.

According to MP-572, "Know Your Fertilizers" published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the absence of each of the valuable elements of the soil produces characteristic signs. These can be used in determining the fertilizer treatments needed.

It says that the signs of nitrogen deficiency are light green vegetation, slow and dwarfed growth, firing of the leaves, and poor root systems. The publication states that the firing of corn begins at the bottom of the plant and proceeds upward and that individual leaves fire down from the tip along the mid-rib.

A shortage of phosphorus causes plants to mature slowly, yield low quantities of grain, fruit and seed, and have purple colored leaves. This important nutrient also causes stunted growth and lack of stooling in small grains, according to the bulletin.

The third of the major nutrients is potassium and a plant hungry for this element usually shows scorching or burning of the outer edges of the leaves on corn, grain sorghum and small grains. However, the publication warns that this symptom may also be caused by a lack of moisture. The premature loss of leaves of cotton and mottling or spotting of the leaves of cotton and soybeans is a sign that the plant is in need of potassium. Corn and grain sorghum may tend to lodge when in need of potassium.

The secondary elements and the micro-elements also cause characteristic hunger signs but these are less often seen and the elements can usually be supplied easily in complete fertilizers, according to the bulletin.

Feed Livestock By

Fertilizing Plants

COLLEGE STATION — Fertilizing pastures is one of the best ways to feed your livestock, according to W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, Texas A & M College.

The chemist says that one of the major problems in Texas agriculture is providing adequate plant nutrients for good growth of both plants and livestock. If soils are deficient in minerals the plants grown on them will be low in nutrients and the animals that eat these forages will not be able to produce at their best, he says.

As proof of this, Bennett says that for years lime, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium have been applied to our pastures and crop lands and the livestock fed from this forage has been healthier and had better conformation and finish than those fed from poor worn out land.

Though progress in restoring nutrients to land may be slow livestock producers can gain much profit from the improvement of their soils. Bennett says. The use of soil minerals for livestock feed production is especially important on soils that have been partially or wholly depleted of nutrients, he adds.

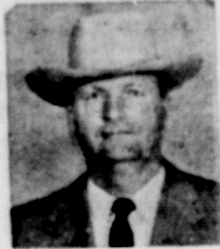

A tool in the development of better forage producing land is the soil test and Bennett recommends it as the first step in planning a sound soil improvement program.

County Agents Notes...

Maxwell Named Comm. Chairman

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

H. D. Maxwell, Milam County School Superintendent, was elected temporary chairman of the County Program Building Committee at a meeting held last week. Invitations were sent to representative members of organizations including business, industry and urban development as well as agriculture and homemaking.

Those attending were representative of our rural organizations but the committee felt that business and industry needed broader representation.

The present committee feels that businessmen, city and county governments need greater understanding of what is being attempted. The purpose of the County Program approach is to assemble county information in a brochure that will portray a favorable image of the county for the purpose of economic development.

The plan for assembling the county information is proposed to be developed through ten study groups to include: 1. Location, geography, climate and history; 2 and 3. Human resources, labor force and occupation groups; 4. Family living; 5. Organizations; 6. Health and Public Welfare; 7. Natural resources; 8. Agriculture; 9. Commerce and Industry; 10. Local Government.

You will likely be contacted and given an opportunity to help with this important program. Your interest and assistance will be highly appreciated.

COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT

The Texas Community Improvement Program, co-sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and the Electric Utility Companies of Texas, has been described as one of the best programs ever conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service. The Community Improvement Program was designed originally to stimulate individual and community effort toward farm home and community improvement. Objectives are to make farm, home and community life more desirable and satisfying, and more profitable and stable for individual families. Participation is open to unincorporated rural communities throughout the state. Cash prizes are awarded by the electric utility companies, after winners have been determined on the basis of progress within the community during the year ending March 31.

There are four communities in Milam County participating in the Community Improvement Program. The Branchville, Davilla, Gause and Griffin Chapel communities have decided on worthy goals and encouraged committees and individual families to work toward the accomplishments of them. The sum total of the efforts and accomplishments made in each community will be evaluated at the end of this month.

Participating communities are reminded that record books are due in the District office on April 1, 1963. This means that they should be in the County Extension office on or before March 29.

Snakes Go Hand

In Hand With

Spring, Summer

Springtime is also snake-time says A. W. Lewis, Director of Region II of the Texas Game & Fish Commission in Waco. Each year there are many victims of snakebite who could easily have avoided either the bite or unpleasant after-effects.

Snakes frequent log and brush piles, and warm places under litter and debris, both in rural areas and around homes in town. Fishermen are constantly exposed to the danger of snakebite, but with a little caution, most accidents and practically all deaths could be avoided.

Lewis suggests to campers, picknickers, fishermen and hunters that a snakebite kit be added to the other personal or family gear and a practice session would be practical benefit. Knowledge of the correct way to handle the materials in the kit will many times mean the difference in effective treatment and failure.

Snakes are largely nocturnal reptiles, and special care should be taken in weeds and brushy places. Never reach under rotting logs or rock piles, and whenever possible boots should be worn with the trousers leg on the outside. Often heavy cloth will deflect the fangs and save a victim from bite.

A 5-year record in Texas showed 357 bites by diamondback rattlers, 23 by prairie rattlers and 258 by copperheads. Coral snakes rarely bite, and no authentic records exist concerning fatalities resulting from such bites. Lewis advises fishermen to use extreme care in the spring season.

"Really, Martha, the first time you cook with an electric range you'll wonder why you waited so long to see what it's like!"

This bit of conversation is typical of that you'll hear from the thousands of housewives who have made the change to flameless electric cooking. And, it's easy to understand when you consider that with electric cooking simple controls provide recipe-exact temperatures... top elements are in direct contact with utensils... so very little heat "spills" out into your kitchen... and, with no flame, pots and pans and your entire kitchen stay cleaner.

P. S. to Martha: Before you buy a new range, work up a "Dutch Dinner" evening with a friend or a member of your family who owns an electric range. Try for yourself cooking the flameless electric way. We know you'll like it.

Milam Chapter Of Rockdale Native TWU Meet; Show Named Assistant To Pres. At TWC

Alumnae from Cameron, Rockdale, Bremond and Marlin attended the February meeting of Texas Woman's University Alumnae Association, Milam County Chapter, in Cameron recently.

Mrs. Leona White, hostess, greeted chapter members and area high school students who were invited as guests.

Color slides of TWU's campus and favorite buildings were shown by Mrs. Roy Hensley of Cameron. The slides were secured from the office of the Dean of Admissions and Registration in Denton.

Mrs. Frank Matula, chapter president, announced plans for a spring style show to be held in Cameron May 10 which will be presented to the general public by students currently enrolled in TWU's Clothing and Costume Design laboratories.

Mrs. Valma Fischer and Mrs. Irene Weydell of Rockdale will be in charge of Rockdale area publicity for the show. Cameron members of the county chapter will solicit the interest of friends in the Cameron area.

Mrs. Niley Smith, Chapter Foundation Chairman, discussed the chapter's annual Scholarship project through which a Milam County girl will be awarded a $100 scholarship by this chapter.

All Alumnae or others interested in this program who have not yet given support are urged to send their gift to Mrs. Smith or the chapter treasurer, Mrs. Andrew Easlinger, both of Cameron. A note should accompany the gift with the explanation that it is for support of the scholarship program, officials said.

High school students attending as visitors were Sheron Thweatt, Diane Caraway, Janet Richards, Karen Anderson and Elaine Richardson, all of Rockdale; and Josey Jackson of Cameron. Younger guests were Patti and Jennifer Yezak of Bremond and Carolyn and Kathy Matula of Cameron.

The hostess served refreshments of pie, coffee and cokes from a table centered with an arrangement of early spring cut flowers. An antique tea - cart held the silver coffee service and appointments were of silver. Yellow jonquils were used in arrangements decorating the meeting room.

Other out of town guests were Mrs. Betty Yezak of Bremond and Mrs. Helen Kleypas of Marlin.

Others attending from Cameron were Mrs. F. E. Jackson, Mrs. Martha Kahler and Mrs. K. K. Robbins.

Four Errors Appear

On Tax Returns

Taxpayers in this area are making four "all - too - common" errors in their tax returns, according to administrative officer, A. P. Andrews of Internal Revenue Service, Temple. These are:

"Failure to print or write legibly, forgetting to sign, not reporting all income, and mistakes in arithmetic."

The administrative officer continues, "Three out of ten taxpayers who make major arithmetic errors pay too much tax, or select the wrong tax from the tax table."

"Unreported income often stems from bank - bearing interest; taxpayers with time deposits frequently overlook the bank credits to their account. Also, we find taxpayers forgetting that some of the money received when they cash Series "E" bonds is interest income, if the bond has reached interest - bearing life.

"Dependency errors, especially those involving working wives, are 'all - too - common' on 1962 returns. Some working wives earning less than $600 are filing separate returns to get a refund on their withholding tax. This separate filing actually costs the couple money, because the husband cannot claim the wife's exemption. These couples should file joint returns, and when joint returns are filed both parties must be sure to sign the returns."

Spring sports are coming into focus as track and baseball practice started this week.

Coach Carl Everett has 16 boys for track this year. He said that workouts were hampered by the weather but the boys had started on the events for the meets. The first meet will be in Taylor as the Yoemen go to the Cotton Bowl Relays on March 16.

The next Saturday the team will be the hosts for the Cameron Relays.

Then on March 30 the team goes to Rockdale and then on April 6 ing now. "At first I didn't like it, but once you get started it's all right," she said.

Barrett has three children, Tammy 2½, Pam 15 months and Karen 2 months.

When he first entered racing, he drove cars for anyone. The rules have changed, and he drives only one car except in rare occasions when he may drive others.

RATES COMPETITORS

He rates Gordon Wooley, of Waco and Bill White, of Temple, as two of the best drivers he has competed against. Competition is keen and the desire to win is great in this sport, but sportsmanship exceeds all.

As Barrett put it: "You have got to be a good sport because if you start driving dirty they can get rid of you quick. Just a quick bump can send you into a wall and it may mean your neck!"

He admits that, like most starting drivers, he would try to force his way thru the cars to pass. But he soon found that the only one he was hurting was himself as he would get bottled and bumped.

This year he is ready to go again. He starts on the circuit April 5 in Waco.

OATS LOSS

Because of the loss of oats due to winter - killing, a spring sown crop might prove desirable. Local county agents can supply information on varieties.

Buna Edges Tigers In Regional Playoff

Buna gained its eighth trip in ten years to the state tournament as they downed the stubborn Rockdale Tigers, 56-50 in the Regional Finals at College Station Saturday.

The lead changed hands throughout the game before Buna gained the lead with 1:49 left in the game. Buna also won the regional championship last year by defeating Rockdale.

Jimmy Kilen was top scorer in the game as he hit 18 points. Cople Perry and Dickie Summers each had 12 points.

Buna is a high favorite to repeat as the AA state champs this year and it would give them their seventh state championship in nine seasons.

MOTOR SELECTION VITAL

Henry O'Neal, extension agricultural engineer, says it's easy to make mistakes in selecting small electric motors. Get the motor for the job to be done.

Like Your Thrills Fast? Johnnie Barrett Does!

By James Hollas

If driving in heavy traffic makes you jittery, how would you like to be driving at 100 mph with cars bare inches from you on both sides, and in front and back?

For Johnnie Barrett it is his favorite sport. A race track driver since 1956, he is one of the leading drivers in the Central Texas area.

The 31 - year - old 5'8" soft drink salesman started driving as a hobby and it soon turned into a business. And it has been a good business. He won the championship of the track in 1958 and 1961 and is confident he can do it again this year.

He drives a car built for the races by Dub Baxter of Rockdale. It carries his Motors Garage sign on the white car with a big number 40.

ON TEXAS TRACKS

During the racing season, he drives all over Texas on the oval speedways. In each race on the circuit a driver gains a certain number of points and the one with the most points comes out the winner of the championship and the money.

Drivers race for half of the gate. If a man wins all the races in a night, he can win around $350 in the four races that night.

The cars sprint around the quarter mile oval at speeds in excess of 110 mph and slow to about 90-95 mph on the curves. And this is done with about 25 cars on the track.

The circuit tour starts March 31 when the drivers will give a free race for the Waco Zoo. The first race for the money will be the night of April 5 in Waco.

The car Barrett will drive is incomplete now, but is being rebuilt in Rockdale. It will have a 296 cu. inch Chevrolet motor in the front. Roll bars and other safety feature are already in the car. When he gets into the single bucket seat, he is strapped in with a seat belt and a harness to hold him in place. All drivers must have the quick release belts and crash helmets.

RECALLS FIRST CAR

Barrett recalls the first car that he built and raced. It had an army web belt that had to be twisted to unfasten. It worked real well until one day when he went into a spin and ended on his top. With all the weight on the belt he couldn't get it loose.

"I looked at the floor and the battery cables were sparking and there was gas leaking," Barrett recalled. Finally a couple of men came running and held him up and got him loose. "From then on I used a quick snap belt," he said.

The worst wreck he can recall was one in which he hit a retaining wall head - on. A wheel came off and he headed into the wall at about 80 mph. He was knocked out for about an hour, had a few cracked ribs and had to go to the hospital.

But some of the accidents have had their lighter side. Now that they are over. It wasn't funny at the time but in front of 2,000 fans in Ft. Worth, he turned a car over and it caught fire. And his pants also burned. So he shucked his pants in the car and came across the track in his shorts. "Some joker even got a picture of me as I came across the track," he mused.

Last year he totaled one car. But this doesn't change his mind about racing. He intends to race as long as possible. And he has been in the top ten every year for the last seven years.

WINS 40 TROPHIES

He has won over 40 trophies, but most of the races are for money, not the golden statues. "After all the trophy doesn't put the bread and butter on the table," he added. But there is always one trophy race a night.

The biggest race he has won was the 100 - lap race in Fort Worth last year. There were 33 cars on the quarter mile track and they were making a lap in 14 to 17 seconds.

Texas Day Luncheon

Mrs. Jud Collier of Mumfords and Mrs. Sterling Robertson of Salado shared the program Tuesday afternoon for the Cameron Delphian Clubs annual Texas Day luncheon at the Cameron Country Club.

Mrs. Collier is well known in Central Texas for her work in the Democratic party and for her efforts for improved roads. Mrs. Robertson was a founder of the Central Texas Museum and now serves as director.

Mrs. Collier and Mrs. Robertson spoke to club members and their guests about the present state efforts to promote tourism in Texas and the need for local groups to prepare and restore historical places of interest.

They pointed out that Milam County has numerous homes and buildings that would qualify for Medalion markers, a state marker signifying an authentic historical site, if local groups would apply for them.

Mrs. Robertson also discussed the Central Texas Museum and some of their programs as well as the proposed star shaped monument to be built at Washington on the Brazos.

Club president, Mrs. Merlin Lester, welcomed members and guests and the speakers were introduced by Miss Mildred Thornton.

Food Sense □ Not Nonsense

An Iron-ic Search

Diogenes, the legendary cynic who searched everywhere in Greece for an honest man, has a soul-mate in doctors and nutrition scientists looking for disease they can pinpoint to a shortage of nutrients in the food Americans eat. With one exception, the search is almost vain. The exception: anemia.

Doctors are voicing growing concern about the disturbing number of persons who have anemia caused by a shortage of the nutrient, iron. Recommendations made for iron by America's top nutritionists in the National Research Council carry the smallest margin of safety of any of the nutrients . . . come closest to requirement's. This is particularly true for rapidly-growing children and young women.

At a recent conference designed to take a searching look at America's nutrition, Dr. Willard Krehl from the State University of Iowa School of Medicine warned that iron-short anemia is so common many hospitals brand borderline cases as normal. "The iron balance sheet," he said, "while adequate for the adult male, is precarious indeed for females."

In searching for reasons behind the increasing number of persons with iron-short anemia, some nutritionists spot these:

- Grandpa's surrender to modern water supplies. Well water is an excellent source of iron.
- Grandma's trading in her old iron skillet for a gleaming, new model of stainless steel, aluminum, or glass.
- Dependence upon one food as the source of all nutrients.

Eating a variety of foods will help fill the iron breach and make nutritional disease ever harder to find. Among the best sources of iron are: Liver, beef, dry fruits and vegetables, beans, deep greens, potatoes, and enriched and whole grain bread and other cereal foods.

History Attends Some City Buildings . . .

There are some handsome examples of historic Central architecture in Cameron, including the jail, the IOOF Building and at least two early homes.

These structures could qualify for a Texas historical medallion. A history of buildings nominated for this award must be presented to the Texas Historical Committee, Austin, where they will be evaluated.

Buildings cited for the Texas Historical Building Medallion will receive a 14 - Inch aluminum medallion. Each has a separate number, corresponding with the number recorded in Austin in the archives of the State. A history of each building receiving a medallion is kept in the archives.

Earlier this month, a home in Hearne was cited for the medallion presentation. Mrs. Sterling C. Robertson, active in support of the Central Texas Museum, Salado, told Cameronites this week that a number of Cameron's historic buildings would be eligible for such awards.

Homes receiving a medallion are listed as well in the new official State Historical tourist map.

This would be a worthy project for Cameron groups interested in history. It would serve modern Cameron and Milam County in citing unique and historic architecture that has a place and an importance in background of modern Central Texas.

We have thought, for instance, that Milam County Jail would some day serve well as a historic museum. It has an interesting history, certainly unique architecture and real possibilities to focus interest on the historical role of Milam County in Texas' development.

While in quest of modernizing and building Cameron, we should not overlook these valuable things that can be remembered as exemplars of the past. These buildings, correctly recognized, could play a proud role in showing new Texans how an earlier Texas lived.

Who will step forward to place these historic structures in proper perspective?

Poage Reviews World Explosion In Population

Congressman W. R. Poage said "probably the most significant and disturbing phenomena of the modern world is the population explosion."

In a weekly newsletter, Cong. Poage says "we may debate about its cause . . . but regardless of the questions and their answers we simply can't ignore the fact that population is increasing so rapidly over much of the world that the standard of living is actually declining for millions of people."

He points out this is happening "where, with our (U. S.) help, the total production is going up. This happens whenever the rate of economic growth does not exceed the rate of population growth."

He cites some comparative growth statistics.

—United States has an economic growth rate of about 3.5 per cent, exceeding the annual population increase of about 1.7 per cent.

—Mexico's population is increasing at 3.2 per cent, almost twice that of the U. S.

—South Viet - Nam has an annual population increase of 5.4 per cent.

"As these people move one step forward (through economic development) the fall back two steps (through an increase in population)", the 11th District Congressman writes.

"It is not a problem we are likely to solve, but it is a problem which we cannot ignore or sweep 21 and will meet with the Mid-Tex under the rug. We must take it into consideration both in our defense plans and in our Aid programs," Cong. Poage noted.

He scheduled an appearance in Waco with Vice President Lyndon Johnson and General Shriver Feb. 21.

Campaigns Go 'Hot To Cold'

By Vera Sanford

AUSTIN — Some like it hot. Some like it cold.

Politicians seem to prefer the latter. So, candidates again will campaign from the freezing weather of January and February, right up to the heat of summer.

This preference on the part of office holders became evident when the Texas House of Representatives killed a bill by Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth that would have moved the Spring voting dates to August and September.

Representative Green urged passage of his bill to bring the voting dates closer to the General Election and thus cut campaigning time in half. But the House would have none of it. Legislators decapitated the bill 97 to 44.

Opponents argued that August was vacation time, therefore a poor time to try to get out the voters. Green countered with a reminder that absentee voting took care of that problem.

But the House refused to concur. In fact members proved their almost total dislike for the bill by a most unusual move. They struck the enacting clause . . . which was like severing a head and leaving only the body.

FIRST FILIBUSTER

Gov. John B. Connally's program on higher education has run into trouble in both houses of the legislature.

House State Affairs subcommittee, considering the bill to create a 25 - member study committee on higher education, is holding up the measure in the lower chamber.

Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress delayed action on the bill for at least six days with a Senate filibuster.

House subcommittee and Senator Rogers both feel that only top officials, in addition to the governor, would have a say in selecting the 25 committee members. They propose that the governor name 15 committeemen, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith five, and Speaker Byron Tunnell, five.

Governor Connally, who still is recuperating from a hernia operation, believes he can get a better balanced committee if he names all members.

TRESPASSING BILL

Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville wants to simplify trespassing convictions.

He has introduced a bill that would allow a landowner to establish ownership simply by going into court and swearing he owns the land. But Rapp found few supporters when he appeared before the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee.

Rep. Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi backed him up. "I know of no convictions in my area," he said. "It is so absurd to spend may be $500 to establish title to get a $50 conviction, no one tries it."

Rapp told the committee, "I own no land, but I feel that a man who owns land should be able to keep me off if he doesn't want me on. People know they can get by with trespassing under the present law, so they trespass."

He said ranchers in his part of Texas are especially plagued with trespassing hunters.

Criminal jurisprudence committee agreed with Rapp that a man should be able to protect his land from hunters who might mistake cows for deer. But some were afraid that the bill could be used to establish title in an ownership dispute.

So the bill was sent to a subcommittee to have the wrinkles ironed out.

SENATE CHANGE PROPOSED

Big city legislators joined Rep. Tom Bass of Houston in a new effort to break up the rural domination of the state senate.

Bass' resolution calling for a vote on a constitutional amendment that would cut out the limitation of one senator per district was signed by Reps. Herbert Shutt, Chet Brooks and Charles Whitfield of Houston; V. E. Berry and Jake Johnson of San Antonio; Dick Morgan and Charles Macatee of Dallas, and Dave Finney of Fort Worth.

Under Bass' proposal, Harris County would get four state senators on the basis of qualified electors. But no one has suggested a solution to the constitutional limitation that restricts the senate to 31 members.

OPEN MEETINGS

By the time Rep. Chet Brooks' bill to ban secret sessions by all state and local boards, commissions and councils passed the House of Representatives, it was little more than a legislative resolution in favor of open public meetings.

Brooks — news reporter on leave from the Houston Post — failed in his attempts to fight the exclusion of a penalty. So the way the bill now stands, if a citizen is barred from a meeting of elected governmental officials, he may seek an injunction against the barring group.

Rep. Charles Whitfield of Houston said, "Ordinarily, it takes eight or 10 days to get an injunction. Meanwhile the meeting is over."

COUNTY PARKS BILL PASSES

House of Representatives voted to give county commissioners authority to set speed limits in county parks and more regulations against littering.

Rep. James L. Lattimore of Corpus Christi was author of the bill. It now goes to the Senate for confirmation.

A 14 - MAN JURY

House criminal jurisprudence committee praised a bill by Houston representative Paul Floyd and sent it to the House for a vote.

Bill provides for the selection of one or two alternate jurors, to be used in case regular jurors become ill.

Present law calls for only 12 men. Often this results in mistrials because a jury - man may become sick midway through a trial.

Under Floyd's bill, the 13th and or 14th juror would sit through the entire trial and follow regular jury rules. But he would sit in on a verdict decision only if one of the regular dozen become incapacitated.

SDEC COMMITTEE NAMED

Gene Locke, head of the State Democratic Executive Committee, has named a finance committee chaired by C. C. Woodson, Brownwood publisher.

Atty. Gene McCullough of Harlingen will be vice - chairman.

When the SDEC meets in Austin on March 16, the finance committee also will hold its session.

NEW LOAN TWIST

State Junior Bar Association has recommended a new approach to the Texas loan problem.

Proposal was made to the House Banking Committee by Charles Sowell, Houston attorney and chairman of the Junior Bar's legislative committee.

He recommended a measure that would regulate loans up to $1,500. Total charges would be based on the outstanding balance, except on loans under $100.

Basically, total charges could not exceed 3 per cent per month on the first $200, 2 per cent per month on the next $100, 1½ per cent per month on the next $200, and 1 per cent on the next $1,000 on a loan contract.

On loans of less than $100, Sowell proposed a flat charge of $1 for each $5 advanced, providing the borrower was given 15 days for repayment on each $5 of the loan.

Sowell said the recommendations resulted from a long and thorough study by the Junior Bar of the "extremely complicated small loan industry."

"CHEEP" GAS BILLED

Mexican gas may not be so cheap for Texas motorists in the future.

Rep. Ben Jarvis, Tyler, has offered a House bill which would require payment of a five cents a gallon state tax on all gasoline bought in Mexico, or states adjoining Texas, unless the motorists have been out of Texas more than 24 hours.

He told the House Revenue and Taxation Committee that residents along the Rio Grande, particularly in the El Paso area, find it cheaper to drive their cars and trucks across to Mexico and fill up with gas at 10 to 12 cents a gallon less than the fuel costs in the U. S. border cities.

State Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio has challenged the "drys" to a vote on statewide sale of alcoholic beverages.

He has introduced a proposed constitutional amendment aimed at letting Texas voters decide in 1964 either to abolish sale of alcoholic beverages statewide or approve it statewide.

SLOW DEATH

A bill aimed at forcing the Texas Railroad Commission to restore preferential allowances on small - tract gas wells apparently has been sentenced to a slow death.

Senate State Affairs Committee, by unanimous vote, has sent it to a subcommittee for an indefinite time. Such action usually means death.

RELIEF FOR AG

At his request Texas' Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr may be relieved of his ex - officio duties on state boards.

A bill has been introduced in the Texas Senate to take the AG off 16 boards of which he is a member by statute.

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Puzzles Over Point In Exploring Too Hot Venus In A Mortgaged Rocket Ship

Dear editor:

As I understand it, scientists have now compiled a lot of information radioed back to earth by the rocket which traveled ten million miles or so on its way to Venus, and while I don't want to brag, I sure does bear out some of my suspicions about outer space.

According to this information, Venus has a temperature of 800 degrees and winds that blow 200 miles a second.

This is what I've been talking about. I mean, what if we explore all the planets there are and still don't find one that has one - tenth the advantages of the one we've already got? I guess it's interesting to know that a weather forecast on Venus would read: High tomorrow 800 degrees, low 700, continued steam, wind out of the southwest at 200 miles a second, but I'm not sure it's worth what it cost.

What if we'd send a rocket with pilots aboard out there and they circled the planet as close as they could without getting scorched and come on back home. What this would have amounted to was a flight of ten million miles in a mortgaged rocket to find a planet that can't be lived on. You've got to remember that all this space exploration is being done on borrowed money, which is all right if we can ever find anything that justifies it, but this report from Venus ain't too encouraging.

Of course, there are millions more out there and if we keep looking long enough we may find something, but a man who mortgages one farm in order to buy another ain't necessarily making progress.

I'm not saying it's so, but the first man to land on the moon, after he gets over the exhilaration of being there and gets a chance to look the country over, may adopt as his new goal an ambition to be the first man to get back to earth.

On the other hand, if we weren't going in debt to explore space, we'd be going in debt to do something else. If people want to mortgage the earth in order to get title to an uninhabitable planet somewhere else, it's their business. Keep the thing going.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

GREAT DAY

FOR GETTING THINGS DONE BY PHONE

So maybe the rain is coming down in sheets. Lightning flashing. Thunder booming. No matter how wretched the weather, you can keep right on using your telephone. Some years ago, bad weather might have affected your telephone service. Today, things are different. Most telephone cables are now filled with pressurized dry air. If a cable springs a leak, the force of the escaping dry air holds out moisture and keeps phones working. An alarm automatically tells repairmen the location of the break. Usually, the trouble is fixed and you never know anything was wrong. So go ahead and use your phone when the sky opens up and the rain comes down. Pressurizing telephone cables to give you storm-proof dependability is another improvement made with you in mind. Our never-ending goal is to improve your telephone service and make it more valuable to you.

Milam ASCS Report

"Don't think it over too long," is the word passed along to feed grain producers by Alva E. Sanders, office manager of the Milam County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Service. He reminds growers who are interested in taking part in the 1963 feed grain program that filing an "intention - to - participate" form at the ASCS County Office is a necessary first step, and the sign-up period extends only through March 22. This gives farmers only a few weeks longer in which to make up their minds about 1963 production plans.

Sanders reports that farmer interest is higher than last year in Milam County. Indications are that 1963 participation will run well ahead of last year's feed grain program.

Minimum diversion under the 1963 program is 20 percent of the individual farm's total feed grain base. For diverting more than the minimum acreage from feed grain production into a conserving use, the diversion payment will be figured at a higher rate.

Besides the diversion payments available through participation in the feed grain program, participating farmers also qualify for a special price - support payment on the normal production of the acreage planted to feed grains in 1963, and they are also eligible to put their crop under the regular price-support loans or purchase agreements. If the farmer wishes, a part of the diversion payment may be made in advance.

Sanders points out that participation in the feed grain program not only saves the farmer the costs of planting and harvesting acres of unneeded feed grains while guaranteeing a substantial income from his diverted acres, but it also increases the conservation of the Nation's cropland, continues the reduction of government feed grain stocks, and saves dollars for taxpayers by reducing the costs of storage, shipping, and handling the government-owned grains.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford
In a few more months Texas will have a wonderful new fishing lake.
One if the reasons is that the Texas Game & Fish Commission just recently has poured thousands of large mouth bass into the new Twin Mountain Lake, west of San Angelo.
Growth rate of bass in West Texas waters is very rapid. This was established only last year when the season was reopened on Lake Sweetwater.
This lake had undergone a complete kill. Then it was restocked. Within something like a year those bass had grown to a catchable size. Now some real "keepers" are being taken from those waters.
Perhaps that is one of the reasons West Texas fishermen are looking forward to the time when the Twin Mountain project will start paying off big.
There are hundreds of fine fishermen in West Texas, and many of them live in and around San Angelo. However, they've had a hard time keeping up with their fishing water. But now it seems they have it made.
In the early days the Angelenos fished in one of the forks of the Concho River, when there was enough water.
Their first real good water came something like a half - century ago with the little Ben Ficklin dam.
Then, as San Angelo grew, the Nasworthy dam was built. It created one of the finest crappie lakes in Texas.
Finally San Angelo got tired of being constantly flooded from the North Concho. So, the Corps of Engineers was persuaded to build a dam across this stream. True, it was dry most of the time, but it was a demon during flood time.

So it was that Concho Dam was built just north of San Angelo, barely out of the city limits.
North Concho Lake also produced good fishing. In fact, it was so good it was picked for the 1962 State Bass tournament, and it paid off.

However, this lake is on the desert, so to speak, and is subject to roughness from the high winds that prevail in West Texas. For that reason it really hasn't had the popularity it actually deserves.
But floods persisted in the Angelo area. When rains fell in Western Tom Green and even in Iron County, floodwaters rolled down a Spring Creek and the middle Concho and poured into Nasworthy.

It became evident that another reservoir was needed.
Two years ago engineering work was completed and evidence produced to show a dam was justified at the Twin Mountain site.
The dam now has been finished at a spot only 12 miles west of the San Angelo Courthouse, and rains are awaited to fill the lake.
All new lakes afford excellent fishing during their first few years, and no doubt this new San Angelo lake will live up to those traditions.
However, it has more to offer. Not only will it fill up with flood water, but it will be spring fed, too. Many springs along the Merton and Spring Creeks flow into the Conchos.
Meanwhile development work is progressing on Lake Nasworthy. It will be a wonderful little constant level lake.
During recent months developers have been busy running channels from Nasworthy behind some of the lake cabins around it.

This creates a paradoxical situation because generally San Angelo is recognized as a part of that great arid portion of West Texas. Yet it will have the most modern lake in Texas with boat roads behind many of its lovely homes, just like Florida.

TO BRING OUR LIGHT OUT OF HIDING

Why do we hide our light under a bushel?
That is to say, why do so many of us fail to develop and use our talents and abilities to aid in making this a happier world for ourselves and those about us? Why do we not use our capabilities for good, to the end that those who will follow us may know a better world than we have known.
Perhaps the answer is fear. Fear, imaginary or real, appears in many forms to handicap us. Our resentments and hates are but forms of emotion that bring harm, more often than not, to no one but ourselves.
How may we conquer, control and overcome our fears and emotions, thus enabling us to bring our light from under the bushel.
The answer is faith. With the aid of God, and a well established faith, negative effects are overcome. We can create a strong faith and companionship with God by attending church and drawing upon it for help. Like all our capabilities, the more they are used the more we can draw upon them. Fear cannot prevail against faith in God and in His Church.
